

Kitty Criminal

“That cat just can’t be stopped!” exclaimed police officer Bob.

“Wanna doughnut?” asks Dave.

“Yes please! . . . I mean bad time Dave!”

Dave frowns.

“Oh, who am I kidding! Get me an extra-large chocolate doughnut . . . with sprinkles,” says Bob “Sure thing” replies Dave.

It was a dark stormy night, the cold wind whistled as tall buildings loomed over small streets with narrow roads.

Pizza cat, criminal mastermind padded down the road.

Name: Pizza cat

Allies: The city mice

Known to: Scar the faces of her enemies.

Danger do not approach.

Pizza approaches a dark ally in which exactly 888 mice lived. One stepped up to speak to Pizza cat.

“So, we meet again”.

“So, we do” replies a smooth yet dangerous voice coming from a small black & white cat (or Pizza cat).

THE NEXT DAY

“So, we have a deal?” asks Pizza cat.

“Positive” replies the mouse at the front.

“Today is the day!” cried Bob.

“What is happening?” asked Dave.

“We are finally going to catch Pizza cat!” replied Bob.

“There isn’t a 100% chance we are . . .” Dave couldn’t finish his sentence as he was disturbed by a ringing phone and rushed over to answer it.

“Pizza cat has Struck again!” came a low voice from the phone.

“What is the case sir?” asked Dave.

“The Mona Lisa has been stolen; the only thing left behind is a can of tuna!” replied the voice

“We’ll be on the case at once sir,” Dave hangs up the phone and all he said to police officer Bob was “We got to get Leo’s dog in on this,”

“Ha!” scoffed Bob

“We caught you red handed!” says Dave. the police officers laughed as Pizza cat frantically looked around for an escape, but then, suddenly her eyes stopped, fixated on the officers. A devilish grin spread across the cat’s face and finally, she spoke.

“You got the wrong cat,” as this was said, a zip was revealed, showing that this was not Pizza cat, this was 888 mice dressed up as Pizza cat!

“Then where’s the cat?” asked Dave.

“Her location will not be said” says one of the mice promptly.

“At least we got the portrait” shrugged Dave.

“This my friend, is a fake,” said another mouse. Just as police officers Dave and Bob where about to accept defeat, Leonardo Da Vinci’s dog bounded in with Pizza cat in his jaws!

Pizza cat is in prison now but she knew this wouldn’t be the last of the kitty criminal mastermind she was . . .

THE END