

I Need a Drink!

I couldn't wait for tomorrow! I was so excited! It was going to be the best day ever!

Then my mum walked into my room. She had a sad look on her face. She shook her head at me. "Sorry...." she said. "It's been cancelled."

I was meant to be going to Fiji on a holiday, but when my mum was watching TV she accidentally leaned on her phone and cancelled it!

"How does that even happen??" I shouted out.

The big problem was that we were going to Fiji to get my water bottle because I left it in the swimming pool. This might sound silly but it was my only water bottle!

My mum left because when she leant on her phone she also accidentally ordered ten million balloons to be delivered to Antarctica so she needed to fix that too!

It was time for a drink, but like I already told you, no bottle! I tried to drink from the pot plant but it tasted disgusting. Then I tried to drink in the tap water but the water went through my hands!

I thought I might need to drink from the toilet then. I don't want to talk about it, but I had to wash my hair after... Still no drink! My dog broke all of the cups and my mum told me that she did not want to buy some new cups so I need to solve this problem. I need to go to the shops.

The man on the counter said that the shop ran out of cups and bottles! "Oh biscuits!" I said. My mouth was starting to feel like a dog poo. I needed a drink!

Maybe if I got a job, I could get my own money and buy a bottle or a cup at another shop.

I went to get a job at KMart. I wanted to say "Can I please have a job?" but because my mouth was so dry it sounded like "Cath I plob have a mop?"

They kicked me out... so I went to the city to get another job.

A man asked me if I wanted to clean the windows on the big tower.....Ummmmm...I am scared of heights. Oh ... .ummmm.

“Can you try?”

Ok well I need a job. So I went up the building.

”I AM SCARED!”I shouted.

So I went back down. No job and no cup or bottle! I sadly went home and by the way my birthday is tomorrow.

I woke up the next day and I was still so thirsty! But I had to open my presents. I got to the presents even though my mouth felt like a rotten cactus!

When I opened the birthday presents, the last four were water bottles!

Holly got me a Stanly, Vasilisa got me a Stitch bottle, Amira gave me a Frank Green. YAY BISCUITS!

I finally had a drink, I was so happy.

The doorbell rang, and the man came to deliver all the balloons!

I looked at my mum.

“Stop leaning on your phone mum!” I shouted.