

What If.....?

I've always wondered what if...

What if I had 1 billion dollars and a Lamborghini? What if I could control the world? Now that I could get used to.

Anyway, I'm Nicole Sniper, and I go to west Brooke high, in Dallas, Texas.

I had just woken up to a bright light coming from outside, and wondered, "what if I woke up and it was dark? That would be so weird. I bolted because I was going to be late for school!

Sometimes I daydream about what if I could fly to school instead of taking the bus. But nope that didn't happen. I was late, my teacher gave me a wicked glance and said, "Go to your seat!" "But what if she had given me a detention? I am so thankful she didn't," I whispered to Lyn. "Ye SOOO thankful," she replied with a mischievous smirk on her face. "That's weird?" I wondered. Lyn Peterson is my best friend but, "what if she wasn't but really my enemy, who talks badly about me behind my back?" what am I saying? She wouldn't do that, she's my best friend! After, a boring day of school I jumped into my warm cosy bed.

The next morning, I had just woken up to an amazing sleep, but IT WAS STILL PITCH BLACK!!!! I checked my clock, and the sight was awful, I was going to be late for school AGAIN! I started rushing, doing everything as fast as I could while still wondering, "why it was pitch black?" I threw my bag on my back, as I took one step out of the house it was sunny, then something crazy happened. – I started to float in the air. Two questions, "why it is sunny, and CAN SOMEONE HELP ME?!!!!" I started to scream, flapping my hands around and around trying to grab a hold of anything in my reach. "Finally, a pole," I joyfully sighed. Once I got the hang of flying, I realised the time and flew to school, being 50 minutes late.

My teacher looked at me furiously, and shouted with all her might, I thought my ears would fall off, but worst of all she gave me a detention and in front of the whole class!! It was so embarrassing!!

During lunch detention people kept whispering while looking at me, it was making me feel nervous..... Drew Bailey, a troublemaker in my class asked me, "Why do you look surprised don't you know?" "Know what?" He showed me a video of the teacher screaming at me, and THE WHOLE SCHOOL had seen it!!!! I couldn't believe someone would do this to me. As Drew told me who it was, my eyes became bright red from trying to hold back my tears. It had to be wrong, a mistake, so after my detention I went to speak with them immediately. "LYN PETERSON, did you post this video of me?" "So, what if I did," she replied. "I thought we were besties. "Well, you thought wrong, you are my enemy, I speak badly behind your back and I extremely hate you!!!" "What a terrible person you are!" How could my best friend do this to me. I'm going to get revenge with her deepest darkest secret. "This is WAR" I shouted.
